COPING SKILLS FOR DEALING WITH THE
CORONAVIRUS (COVID-19) FROM A CHILD
THERAPIST

BY COPINGSKILLSFORKIDS.COM

While some kids have settled into new routines and may be starting to adjust to their new normal, many continue to have difficulty coping with all of the changes that have come along in the past several months. And as we move closer to summer, we can anticipate that new transitions will bring with them new challenges as well. Here is another resource that includes ideas and activities to help support your child's coping skills (and a few for adults as well!)
