Students

- The district wants to remind our students and families that the program providing free breakfasts and lunches to all students ended on June 10th. Later this summer, the district will be reminding families to apply for free and reduced meals for the 2022-2023 school year. We don't want to see families who qualify miss out on this important support.

Staff

- The end of year luncheon held on Friday, June 10th was very nice. It was a huge honor for me to be able to recognize our outstanding retirees. I also took time to thank the entire staff for their dedication, patience, and perseverance this year. While the year was tough, our staff rose to the occasion again and again and provided outstanding educational opportunities to our students. This was true for every department!

General

- On Thursday, June 16th all MAS administrators, social workers, and counselors attended an all-day Comprehensive School Threat Assessment Guideline (CSTAG) training. The training was offered by the WISD using a trainer from School Threat Assessment. The training puts a formal process in place for evaluating potential threats that very closely matches the informal work that we have always done at MAS. CSTAG will also bring common language into the process for everyone in Milan and the county, including law enforcement agencies.

- The district is currently awaiting the results of the community survey conducted by K-12 Insight. Once the survey results are received, they will be shared with the community.
